

GRAMMAR AND WORD USE QUESTIONS

- In Alfarus's first speech, distinguish carefully between the words latera and latae. Cite and translate the clause in which they occur.
Duo latera porticus et latae et longae nimium "the two sides of colonades both very wide and very long."
- List and translate three forms of the verb vendo found in the last sentence of Alfarus's second speech.
Vendituri "going to sell"; venditium "those selling"; venduntur "they are sold."
- List and translate two future active participles found in the same sentence.
Vendituri "going to sell"; empturi "going to buy."
- How is the word ut translated in the last sentence?
As.

COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS

- What is Alfarus's first comment on the shops of Tejada?
I have never seen anything more splendid.
- What does the complex have on two sides?
Porticoes or colonnades.
- What is on the third?
A canal or ditch.
- What excellent features do the shops have?
Light and air in the upper rooms and access to a canal from the back.
- What is located by the third side?
A shopping area for the Indians.
- What compliments are paid to the offered merchandise?
Many things are offered which are found nowhere else.
- What two things are very diverse in nature?
The customs and languages of men, and the nature of the lands.